

About the Washington Council for Prevention of Child Abuse & Neglect (WCPCAN)

Established by the Legislature in 1982, the Washington Council for Prevention of Child Abuse & Neglect became the first state agency in the nation created solely to focus on prevention of child abuse and neglect. More than two decades later, WCPCAN continues to represent a unique asset in Washington's efforts to ensure the health and well being of our state's children.

WCPCAN provides funding for community-based programs designed to support families and prevent child abuse and neglect, educate the community through media campaigns, newsletters and professional training opportunities, and offers education and resources for child abuse prevention and family support specialists.

Heirloom Birth Certificate

The Gift of Life for the Gift of a Lifetime.

Celebrate the birth of a child or cherished family member with an Heirloom Birth Certificate featuring an original design by an award-winning Washington State artist.

When you purchase an Heirloom Birth Certificate, you contribute to the well-being of all Washington children. A portion of the proceeds from each sale is granted to communities for the prevention of child abuse and neglect.

Celebrate the Gift of Life with the Gift of a Lifetime

Celebrate the gift of life with the Washington State Heirloom Birth Certificate. A lasting memory of a baby's birth. A loving reminder of a cherished grandchild or relative. A lasting keepsake for future generations. A timeless tribute to the past.

Give an Heirloom Birth Certificate for special occasions:

- Baby Showers
- Birthdays
- Graduations
- Anniversaries
- Retirement
- Recognition of Family and Genealogical History

The certificate is an official birth document that includes the individual's name, date and place of birth and the name and birthplace of the parent(s).

It is personally signed by the Governor and State Registrar and printed in full color on quality paper.

The Heirloom Birth Certificate is a beautiful, permanent record for anyone born or adopted in the state of Washington.

Give the Gift that Gives Twice

When you purchase an Heirloom Birth Certificate to celebrate a memorable occasion, you also help to protect Washington's most valuable resource – our children.

Through a collaborative effort between the Washington Council for Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect and the Washington State Department of Health, Center for Health Statistics, each purchase of an Heirloom Birth Certificate contributes to the well being of all Washington children.

The Washington State Heirloom Birth Certificate is an original work of art designed exclusively by award-winning Northwest artist Jennifer Bowman of Anacortes.

Actual dimension is 8-1/2 " x 11"
